Happy Thanksgiving

The following is a listing of some of the properties that have sold in our Maple Leaf neighborhood during the months of September and October, 2005.

Do you wonder what your home may be worth? The decor, features and condition all have a bearing on the price a home will command. We have seen the interiors of most of the homes on this chart.

If you are considering selling your home, please let us help you. By discussing the details with you, viewing your home and preparing a market analysis, we can provide you with useful information, such as a sales price that might realistically be expected in today's market.

History of Maple Leaf

On August 21, 1889, the Maple Leaf Post Office, located in a future neighborhood of Seattle, starts distributing mail. The postmaster is Stewart H. Seelye, who serves till the post office closes on May 1, 1891. This post office likely was established in conjunction with a subdivision named Maple Leaf to Green Lake Circle. The plat is located between the streets that would later be called NE 85th and 105th streets and 5th Avenue NE and 25th Avenue NE.

When the post office closed, the mail was transferred to the Pontiac Post Office located along the west shoreline of Lake Washington near Sand Point.

The site of Maple Leaf subdivision was annexed to the City of Seattle in the early 1950s.

New Public Park:

On September 21st, Mayor Nickels, Councilmember David Della, and King County Executive Ron Sims announced the City's intention to acquire the north park and ride lot (north of Target) and turn it into 3.75 acre public park. A public process will help determine the future use of this space.

There are many more plans and proposals for the Northgate area. For updated information about Northgate go to the public website at <http://www.seattle.gov/dpd/planning/northgate> or contact: Mark Troxel, DPD (206) 615-1739 mark.troxel@seattle.gov.
